■ Preface

The 26th International Symposium on Temporal Representation and Reasoning (TIME 2019) took place in Málaga, Spain, from the 16th to the 19th of October, 2019. This year's edition was organized with the help of the University of Málaga, in particular the School of Industrial Engineering. TIME is a well-established symposium series which brings together researchers interested in reasoning about temporal aspects of information in all areas of computer science. The symposium aims to be interdisciplinary and to attract attendees from artificial intelligence, database management, logic and verification, and beyond.

TIME 2019 received 25 research paper submissions from France, Sweden, Greece, Italy, Spain, UK, Poland, Germany, Romania, Lebanon, and Algeria, written by 80 different authors. We would like to thank all authors for submitting outstanding contributions to the conference. The submissions were carefully evaluated by the 23 members of the program committee, who deserve a warm thanks for their high-quality and timely handling of the reviews. Each submission was reviewed by at least three PC members (two in a few cases). At the end, 17 contributions were accepted for inclusion in the conference proceedings and presentation at the conference.

The TIME 2019 scientific program includes also three keynote presentations given, respectively, by Michael Böhlen (University of Zurich), Estela Saquete Boró (University of Alicante), and Patricia Bouyer (CNRS). Thanks to the support of the University of Málaga, TIME 2019, for the first time, included two 3-hours tutorials on Computer Aided Synthesis and on Temporal Aspects of Inductive Logic Programming, given, respectively, by Véronique Bruyère (University of Mons) and Fabrizio Riguzzi (University of Ferrara). We are delighted that they all accepted our invitation, and are very grateful for their scientific contribution.

Finally, we would like to acknowledge the excellent work of all the people involved in the organization of the conference, in particular the local arrangement chair Emilio Muñoz-Velasco. His support was indispensable for a smooth organization and preparation of the conference. Deep thanks also go to Dr. Wagner and the LIPIcs team for the support during the preparation of the conference proceedings.
