■ Preface

This volume contains the papers presented at DNA 28: the 28th International Conference on DNA Computing and Molecular Programming. The conference was held during August 8–12, 2022, at the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque, New Mexico, USA, and was organized under the auspices of the International Society for Nanoscale Science, Computation, and Engineering (ISNSCE). The DNA conference series aims to draw together researchers from the fields of mathematics, computer science, physics, chemistry, biology, and nanotechnology to address the analysis, design, and synthesis of information-based molecular systems.

Papers and presentations were sought in all areas that relate to biomolecular computing, including, but not restricted to: algorithms and models for computation on biomolecular systems; computational processes in vitro and in vivo; molecular switches, gates, devices, and circuits; molecular folding and self-assembly of nanostructures; analysis and theoretical models of laboratory techniques; molecular motors and molecular robotics; information storage; studies of fault-tolerance and error correction; software tools for analysis, simulation, and design; synthetic biology and in vitro evolution; and applications in engineering, physics, chemistry, biology, and medicine.

Authors who wished to orally present their work were asked to select one of two submission tracks: Track A (full paper) or Track B (one-page abstract with supplementary document). Track B is primarily for authors submitting experimental or theoretical results who plan to submit to a journal rather than publish in the conference proceedings. We received 38 submissions for oral presentations: 14 submissions to Track A and 24 submissions to Track B. Each submission was reviewed by at least four reviewers. The Program Committee accepted 9 papers for Track A (64%) and 14 papers for Track B (58%). We also received 50 submissions for Track C (poster), of which four were selected as additional oral presentations by the Program Committee. This volume contains the papers accepted for Track A.

We express our sincere appreciation to our invited speakers: Andrew Ellington, Jessica Flack, Elisa Franco and Matthew Patitz. We thank all of the authors who contributed papers to these proceedings, and those who presented papers and posters during the conference. Last, but by no means least, the editors are especially grateful to the members of the Program Committee and the additional invited reviewers for their hard work in reviewing the papers on a tight deadline and for providing insightful and constructive comments to the authors.
